

TOTEM LIGHT

Conceived as a sculpted and sacred object, the Totem Light embraces a duality of expression; highly machined yet inspired by nature.

The light's triangulated composition reflects the petals of a bougainvillea flower, arranged to shield the plant's central stem. Similarly, the light's three sheets of glass are screw-fixed to custom triangular steel cleats, while a central rod suspends three LED tube lights within. These illuminated elements float ethereally beyond the glass shroud, forming a vertical, crystalline structure and striking statement piece.
